TURKEY REFUSED RUSSIA'S REQUEST.

She Asked Permission for Warships to Pass Through the Dardanelles.

EASTERN TENSION CONTINUES.

FranceAgrees to Use Her Good Offices In Conjunction With England And United States.

London, Jan. 27 .- The correspondent of the Daily Graphic at Sebastopol claims indisputable authority to assert that Russia, three weeks ago, asked permission for warships to pass through the Dardanelles, which permission Turkey declined to grant.

Special dispatches from Tokio published this morning concur in the statement that the tension continues, but they only report ministerial conferences, without giving the results. Dispatches from both Tokio and Pekin, however, agree that as a result of China's efforts to secure mediation, France has agreed to use her good offices, in conjunction with Great Brit-ain and the United States, to arrange a modus vivendi between Russia and Japan. Further, the French minister at Pekin has intimated to Prince Ching his belief that if such mediation were successful the three powers in question could assist China in coming to an equitable agreement with Russia re-garding Manchuria. Both the British and American ministers at Pekin are agreed, however, according to the dispatch from Pekin, that such mediation is impossible, as neither of the powers concerned has invited mediation pub-licly, and they have notified Prince Ching in accordance with their decision.

INDEPENDENCE MINE VICTIMS Bodies All Recovered and Four Identified.

Victor, Colo., Jan. 27 .-- All of the bodies of the victims of yesterday's ac-cident at the Stratton's Independence mine, have been recovered and four, those of John Sebeck, C. C. Staten, Joseph Overy and Harry Geogen, have been identified. It was at first thought that none could be identified but this has proved to be a mistake, and it is now certain that quite a number of the other victims will be identified. TO DEFRAUD GOVERNMENT. In Groff Case Evidence Introduced To Show It.

Washington, Jan. 26 .- Testimony designed to show the existence of a con-spiracy to defraud the government was introduced today by the prosecution in the postal trial. At the outset the question of the admissibility of the declaration of Diller B. Groff made to postoffice inspectors came up for fur-ther argument. Coursel for the ce ease vigorously contended that the declara-tion was not a voluntary one, but was made under duress, while the gov-ernment insisted that when confronted with charges D. B. Groff had resortto evasion, subterfuge and false-od. The court finally decided that the statement was evidence against Diller B. Groff, but not against the other defendants, and the jury would judge as to whether it was voluntary or not. Postoffice Inspectors Rolfe, Thorpe, McKee and Mayer, all of whom had interviewed the Groffs prior to their arrest, detailed the circumstances surrounding these conversa-

Diller B. Groff, in his own behalf, declared that when the inspectors called on him their manner was over bearing, gruff and bulldozing. He said he had been suffering from insomnia at the time and signed the statement upon its being read to him. He then testified that the inspectors had said to him that they wanted to arrest two men, "and if you will give us the information that will convict them, w will give you $13,000 and let you ride in the government band wagon, and will ride with flying colors."

It subsequently was brought out that the $13,000 referred to represented the amount the government owed the Groffs, and payment for which had been held up. Mr. Douglas, for the defense, charged that the whole case was honeycombed with intimidations.

Postoffice Inspector Mayer came in for a searching examination and admitted that in an affidavit made by himself, referring to an interview he had had with Samuel A. Groff, he had omitted certain replies made by Groff, but denied that he resorted to threats in order to elicit the statements from Groff. Inspector McKee, under a rigid examination, said that Mayer had said to Samuel A. Groff:

'If you are a patriot, come to the scue of the government at this time, McKee adding that the conversation generally led to Machen as being the one suspected of getting a "rakeoft" on the letter box fasteners.

Mr. Mayer had not concluded when court adjourned for the day. The gov-ernment, contrary to expectation, did not close its case today.

Families Elope and Are Married Philadelphia, Jan. 27,-Moncure Robinson and Sarah Sisson Abell, mem-bers of two of Baltimore's richest and most fashionable families, have eloped to Chester, Pa., where they were mar-ried by Mayor Howard H. Houston. They came to Chester, where Robin-son's brother-in-law has a country home and the wedding had been arranged to take place in a church of which the bride is a member, when a telegram from the higher ecclesiastics in Baltimore put a stop to the cere-mony. The police also appeared with telegrams commanding them to stop the wedding. But the party appeared before the mayor and satisfied him that the license was regular. After the bride had sworn she was of age, he made them man and wife. The bride's mother appeared a few minutes too late, Differences in religion are said to American Property Dectroyes. San Domingo, Thursday, Jan. 21.-It was learned here today that the insurgents are destroying American property in Santo Domingo, consequently the United States cruiser Columbia left here this morning for San Pedro Macoris to protect American interests there, the American consul at San Pedro having telegraphed Minister Powell, advising him of the necessity of the cruiser's presence, and saying of the cruiser's presence, and saying also that other foreign interests were imperiled. The government is unable to afford the necessary protection. Certain American sugar estates at San Pedro are considered to be especially threatened, as they are some distance from the town and without protection.

Him with Inspiring the Panama Revolt.

WANTS MORE INFORMATION.

Introduces Resolution Calling for Investigation of Bunau-Varilla's

Washington, Jan. 26 .- The time of the senate today was again divided between consideration of the Panama question and other subjects. There was only one speech on the canal, and it was made by Mr. Stone of Missouri, who spoke to a resolution directing the senate committee on foreign relations to make an investigation into the Panama revolt. He contended that the circumstances indicated complicity on the part of the United States in the secession of Panama, and urged that in the interest of the country's good name all the facts should be known.

Mr. Heyburn of Idaho made his first speech in the senate in support of a resolution introduced by himself prohibiting railroad companies from taking up land in a solid body in lieu of land in forest reservations.

A number of bills were passed including one for a memorial bridge across the Potomac river at Washing-

Mr. Heyburn of Idaho addressed the senate on his resolution directing a stay of proceedings on applications to patent even numbered sections of public lands in lieu of odd numbered sections, surrendered by railroad companies in forest reserves. He complained that the present law permits railroads to surrender worthless lands and take up other territory of much greater value. The resolution was referred to the committee on public lands.

The resolution presented yesterday by Mr. Tillman, asking for information from the secretary of war concerning the appointment of Gen. Wood and other army officers, was taken up and passed without debate.

Mr. Stone of Missouri then addressed the senate on his resolution directing the committee on foreign relations to make inquiry into the facts relating to the revolution in Panama. He offered a substitute for his resolution in accordance with the Democratic senatorial caucus of last Saturday, the substitute being as follows:

stitute being as follows:

"That the committee on foreign relations is hereby instructed to investigate and ascertain whether Bunau-Varilla and other persons residing in the United States, subject to our laws, did aid and promote an insurrection in Panama against the republic of Co-lombia, and did give assurance to citizens of Panama that they should have the aid and assistance of our navy in behalf of such insurrection, and wheth-er any officials of any department of this government did disclose or make known to said Bunau-Varilla or to any other person the action which the gov-ernment of the United Staes designed or proposed to take in the event of an

He did not charge intentional wrong, but attributed our course to the president's "volcanic nature" and "his love for the tragic, lurid and sensa-

He said the president had boldly announced "in the blustering diction of the buccaneer" his intention to seize the isthmus of Panama if Colombia did not ratify the Hay-Herran treaty, and added that he had done this without disguise or shame.

Mr. Stone said he fancied the president's attitude would be most gratifying to John C. Calhoun and Jefferson Davie, were they living. Panama could Davis, were they living. Panama could do nothing unless independent, and "the president thus admits his willingness to inspire revolt and aid rebel-

Mr. Stewart defended the administra-tion against what he termed were the misrepresentations of opposing sena-tors. He claimed that Panama never had been a legitimate part of Colombia, and that she would have achieved her independence 50 years ago but for the interference of the United States to protect isthmian transit. He declared that they have been a worse that "never had there been a worse gang of robbers than the men who constitute the government of Colombia. The resolution went over.

The senate then passed the bill providing for the construction of a me-morial bridge across the Potomac from Washington to the Arlington estate, to cost $5,000,000; also 137 private pen-sion bills and bills for relief from military disabilities.

The senate at 5:08 o'clock went into executive session, and at 5:11 p. m. adjourned.

Minority Leader Assailed the President And the Man from Illinois Defended Him.

Washington, Jan. 26 .- Mr. Boutell (Rep. Ill.), addressed the house for nearly two hours today in a reply to statements made by Mr. Williams of Mississippi, the minority leader, on his 'stand pat" speech of a few days ago. Mr. Williams, in turn, replied to Mr.

The house had under consideration at the time the urgent deficiency bill. Mr. Boutell received close attention of both sides of the chamber, and when he spoke of the passing of the last trace of bitterness between the north and the south he was loudly applauded on both

Mr. Boutell was humorous and grave pathetic and poetic. Mr. Williams, it his reply, was likewise humorous. Re-ferring to the Philippines, he said: "If that is another thing you want to stand pat on, stand pat, then, on your un-American, old European-army-military-camp-grab-nation policy of an indefinite colonialism." When Mr. Boutell had concluded, Mr. Williams crossed over and shook hands with him, Mr. Boutell returning the compliment when Mr. Williams had

Mr. Boutell of Illinois, replying to statements made by Mr. Williams of Mississippi a few days ago on protec-tion, evoked laughter by likening the Democratic party to characters in lical history, and, speaking of Mr. Bry-an's trip to Europe said he got an inspiration from Mr. Croker and brought back an idea.

You still have got William Jennings

Bryan to reckon with," he declared addressing himself to the minority side adding that he again would play the part of Nebuchadnezzar or the part of Samson, and charged the Democrats to see that he did not pull down the pillar of their house and again bring them into the position of idolators. Mr. Boutell read a large number of extracts from southern newspapers to show that prosperity has prevailed throughout the south. He said it was a story of great prosperity with prospects of a still brighter year. He did not claim that this was due to protection, but said the Dingley act was the wisest and most beneficent measure ever placed on the statute books. He said he was glad he had lived to see the time when the last trace of bitter-passed away. In conclusion Mr. Boutell said the re-cord of the Republican party would be its platform in the coming campaign. "There is no more doubt about our leader," he said, "than there is about the platform. Some of the other side have criticised the president for being impetuous," he added, "but the people prefer the president to be frank rather han of the subterranean character. "The people know what Roosevelt is," he said, adding that he was loved for the enemies he had made.

Laughter on the Democratic side was evoked when Mr. Boutell asked if the president had forfeited esteem because he had enforced the law against illegal combinations. He had heard it said that a number of men were being groomed for the Republican nomina-tion, but that was nothing, he said, as it was true back to Washington's time. He declared that Roosevelt would be nominated, and that he would have as large a majority as Lincoln, Grant or McKinley, and if it were not for the 'geographical" Democrats, it would be olled to Mr. Boutell, saying that he was glad there was not a line of custom houses along the Potomac and along the Ohio to protect one side against the other. He asked if a stronger word than "impetuous" had been used in referring to the president. Referring to Mr. Boutell's statement that Roose velt would be the Republican nominee,

Mr. Williams said: 'You have gone so far you cannot go back, and you are going to stand pat Replying to the charge that they had worshipped the idol of opposition to the holding of the Philippinese, he said Washington fought and soldiers starved at Valley Forge because opposed to He told the majority to stand pat on what he termed that un-American policy, and again referred to it as "colonialism, recklessness, land-grabbing and greed," and, spoke of "putting bullets in the brown man."

The distinguished accidental incumbent of the house at the other end of the avenue dared to call Thomas Jefferson a coward," he said. "Is a man a coward who, in the eighteenth century, dared to deny the divinity of Christ and run for the presidency?" In answer to a question by Mr. Boutell, Mr. Williams armoured himself most positively on the silver question. "Conditions are such that the silver question has been relegated to the rear," he declared, amid continued Democratic applause. Mr. Williams explained that he was speaking simply as the representative of the Eighth Mississippi district and At 5:47 p. m. the house adjourned unbusiness trip to Chicago where he put in a week with high officials of Bell Telephone companies from over the country. Mr. Wallace reports an enormous increase in the telephone business, so that it seems as though it would be a comparatively short time before the entire country is covered with a copper network. It will be de-cided in a short time whether the break between Denver and the Missouri river shall be connected up in Kansas or Nebraska, and then through service be-tween Pacific coast points and Atlantic seaboard points will be established. Salt Lake is to be on the through service, and as soon as heavy through connections can be made, any of the almost innumerable cities east of her can be called up, or any of the Pacific coast centers. There will be no repeating of messages, as obtains in the tele-graph service, but all connections will be switched, so that the flow of the current will be without interruption. Thus if Salt Lake would call up Mil-waukee, the Chicago central is rung up, and local connections made with the central office in Milwaukee, which in turn calls up the party in town desired;

Boston or other far eastern points will be rung up from Salt Lake as easy as Butte or Billings. This can be done by means of the Pupin coil, invented by Prof. Pupin of Columbia university, a device that ensures as facile and felicitious communication between opposite sides of the continent as between two 'phones in any one town. Proposed Consolidation Discussed by Some of the Trustees.

The school trustees of districts 22, 35, 44, 61 and 67 met with County Supt, of Schools Ashton and the county commis sioners yesterday and discussed the consolidation of the school districts of the county.

A number of the trustees were very much opposed to the consolidation. The trustees of Draper were opposed to the plan for the reason that it cut of some of their revenue derived from the taxation of the two railroads. A number of the others were opposed to it when they first came in but after the matter was thoroughly explained to them they were favorable to it.

They will further consider the matter before definitely agreeing on the consolidation plan.

he will be unable to accept the office. Mr. Sanders believes that this new packing industry will prove a success. He thinks it would be wise to establish the main plant, say at Kansas City, with a big western or Pacific coast branch at Portland, Seattle or Spokane. The Portland people have offered a site and $20,000 bonus for the main establishment, but this will no doubt go to the Missquri river country.

Mr. Saunders believes that the convention will be productive of great good to the livestock industry in the west, and looks for congressional fegislation beneficial to the stockman. The ranges are now in good shape. Those to the south were not in so good a condition before the last storms, but the last snows have freshened the winter feed up, and livestock are now all doing well. Mr. Saunders said the Portland people made it very pleasant for the visiting cattle and sheepmen. He came right home, while nearly all of the other Utah delegates made the southern trip. There were comparatively few eastern delegates owing to the distance, but the west was well represented.

UTAH IMPOSED ON.

World's Fair Commission Cuts Down Space Allotted to This State.

In response to a recent request sent out by the directors of the world's fair, Director General Whitaker of the Utah exhibits rushed on two carloads of the mineral display, and now he receives a message from Supt. J. A. Holmes of the general mineral exhibits at the fair, "Ship no exhibits until re-ceive formal allotments and detailed instructions." The occasion of this is the fact that the space allotted to this state for its minerals has been reduced one third, as the management says the full space originally allowed cannot be granted; there is not the room to spare Mr. Whitaker has entered a large and healthy protest. Utah's space was 5,000 square feet, and the reduction will largely reduce the efficiency of the mineral exhibit. This will be one of the finest ever put out by a mining state, and contains samples of ore from which radium is extracted, a block of coal from Clear Creek weighing 12,90 pounds, a 9,000 pounds piece of building stone, with samples of every ore found in the state. Mr. Whitaker says he has felt that trouble of some kind was coming, so he made haste to get the exhibit on the grounds in due season.
